Janhavi Padture, Vice President – Strategy, Harbinger Knowledge Products Private Limited, said, “This year has been special for us in all aspects. The spirit was festive and celebratory right from the commencement of the year. Harbinger running into the 25th year was of course the biggest reason. Raptivity's Interactive Thought Leaders Panel too took off this year and we got a great response to this initiative. We had some interesting webinar sessions, and now, what better than ending the year with some unbelievable deals for our customers and prospects. We have never offered such high discounts ever before. I would encourage everyone to make best use of this opportunity and avail the deals before the offers expire.”
