Raptivity Receives “Award of Excellence” in Best of 2015 Elearning! Awards

Raptivity, the award-winning eLearning software for interactive learning, was recognized with the Award of Excellence in the Best of Elearning! 2015 Awards, in the ‘E-learning Development Tool’ category. These awards, constituted by Elearning! Magazine, are based on the votes by readers and professionals from both the private and public sector where more than 4,000 nominations are casted for the best-in-class solutions across various product categories.

According to Catherine Upton, Group Publisher, Elearning! Media Group, each brand named as a finalist will receive an award of excellence or winner honors. “Given the high volume of votes and the number of nominated products, every one of these solution providers should be proud to be voted as best-in-class by their customers,” she added.

"Globally, users recognize Raptivity as the leader in the field of rapid interactivity. The Best of Elearning! Awards recognition has reinforced Raptivity's leadership", said Vikas Joshi, Chairman and Managing Director, Harbinger Group.

Janhavi Padture, VP, Strategy and Research, Harbinger Knowledge Products adds, “Every day we hear how Raptivity is changing the way organizations train their employees, students, and partners, and this recognition clearly points to Raptivity’s impact on eLearning. We are grateful to all Raptivity users for expressing their satisfaction through their votes. As a gesture to thank our esteemed user community, we are pleased to announce special pricing for the entire suite of Raptivity offerings. These special prices are valid until March 31, 2016.”

Raptivity, a leading interactivity builder tool allows users to achieve better learning outcomes with meaningful interactivity. Raptivity’s customizable interaction templates including exercises, diagrams, games, simulations, 3D objects, virtual world interactions, videos and more, are based on best practices in instructional design.
